In calculating expenses, you should keep in mind that students holding F-1 non-immigrant status are allowed to work a maximum of 20 hours per week on-campus (provided a student position is available). Off-campus employment may be authorized after one academic year with governmental approval, if the student is maintaining lawful F-1 status and is in good academic standing. Any off-campus employment must be directly related to the student’s field of study indicated on his/her I-20 document. The applicant should not view employment as a significant source of financial support while attending Kaskaskia College.

International students are not eligible to receive financial assistance from U.S. governmental agencies except under extraordinary circumstances. If you are married and plan to bring your spouse and/or children, you must show additional funding for dependent living expenses; this includes an additional $3,700 per academic year for your spouse and an additional $2,200 for each child. Dependents of F-1 non-immigrant students are not permitted to work under any circumstances.

I clearly understand and agree to the following:

1. F-1 international students are not eligible to receive any Federal or State financial aid.
2. Tuition for all F-1 international students is currently assessed at the out-of-state tuition rate of $340.00 per credit hour (2010-2011 school year). This rate is subject to change without notice.
3. Tuition/fee payments must be made in full or according to the payment schedule outlined in the course schedule.
4. F-1 international students are strictly limited to 20 hours per week of on-campus employment (if student positions are available).
5. Regulations prohibit F-1 international students from seeking off-campus employment prior to having completed one academic year of full-time study. Any off-campus employment requires special government authorization before the student begins working.
6. I have made the necessary financial arrangements to meet my expenses throughout my stay in the U.S. while studying at Kaskaskia College.

I certify that I have read and understand all of the information listed above.
