The Kaskaskia College Scroll was revamped as the replacement for the Marion County Crier, under the direction of Cathy Karrick, Director of Public information and Dale Hill, Communications Specialist. The Scroll is now distributed on a weekly basis to all campuses and education centers, and over 5,000 copies are mailed to households in the Marion County area.

The Scroll has recruited and utilized the talents of a group of scholarship students under the umbrella of the Fine and Performing Arts Scholarship program. Scroll Scholarship recipients include:

Nicole Firebaugh, Centralia
Christina Bartley, Salem
Kay Timmerman, Carlyle
Danielle Simpson, Centralia
Carl Gaebe, Okawville
Jessica George, Shattuc
Hannah Piercy, Mt. Vernon

Non-scholarship contributors are:
Trey Williams, Salem
MacKenzie Branch, Centralia

These students, on scholarship or not, have done an exemplary job of generating story ideas, keeping deadlines, editing each other’s work, taking photographs, and conducting themselves in a professional manner.

Through their work, and that of the Public Information office, the Scroll has produced a large number of articles promoting KC events, programs, and people.
